“Whereas other vendors have transitioned their solution portfolios over to a cloud-hosted model in recent years, Archer has had the cloud at the core of its solutions and services offering since its foundation in 2000. The vendor's approach to building out its technology architecture has centered on a single, cloud-based service to provide investment managers with a fully integrated platform that aims to simplify processes across investment channels while increasing scalability.”

INNOVATIVE OUTSOURCING SERVICES DESIGNED EXCLUSIVELY FOR YOUR NEEDS

GAIN FLEXIBILITY WITH RIGHTSOURCED SERVICES FIT TO SUIT YOUR UNIQUE OPERATIONS.

Successful outsourcing for investment management firms goes beyond reconciliation and account processing by offering services that help you enter new distribution channels and deepen your product bench. With front offices facing increasing pricing pressure, competition, and an evolving regulatory space, outsourcing middle and back office services provides the ability to focus on achieving strategic goals rather than scaling operations.

Archer's flexible outsourcing solutions include unique services such as trading and trade settlement, model delivery supporting UMAs, and support for ETF management. Transparency is provided at every level of outsourcing, providing the control and peace of mind you need to innovate every day.

TRADE SERVICES

Archer's trade services deliver more options designed to help you concentrate on your core business of investment management. Services include maintenance trading, across-the-board portfolio trades as well as trade execution and settlement support.

Maintenance trading using model portfolios can be completed when new accounts are opened, to accommodate cash flows, or for tax-harvest requests. Trades can also be completed across-the-board following model changes across groups of accounts. Services can include custom rotations of trade request deliveries. Throughout the process, managers are able to fully monitor account drift and compliance through Archer's robust, real-time reporting.

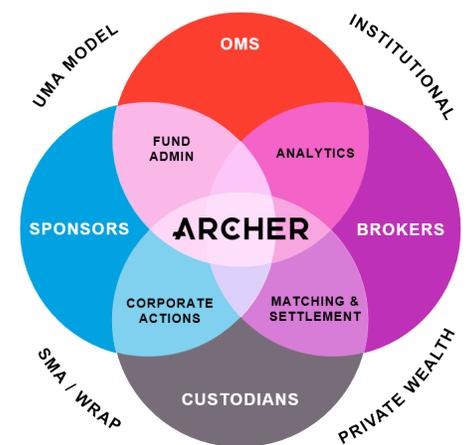

MODEL DELIVERY SERVICES

Outsourcing model delivery to Archer can eliminate much of the additional support required by managers delivering models to multiple platforms.

Archer provides a dynamic model maintenance interface allowing managers to choose a full model refresh, or individual security changes. Same-day model delivery output is customized to meet each platform's requirements, including e-mail and web-portals. Archer can also deliver scheduled periodic model updates to sponsors.

ETF SUPPORT SERVICES

For managers with an established ETF or those who may be looking to create one, Archer now provides services that help reduce the operational burden of
